

IN SOCIETY.

THE season of merriment and festivity is in evidence throughout the city, and the gaiety of the holiday time bids fair to remain till well along in the new year. The past week has been especially noteworthy, not alone for its large and elaborate affairs, but for the many minor events which go to show the true hospitality of Salt Lake's smart set. More delightful than any other form of entertainment have been the many beautifully appointed Christmas festivities, at many of which the visitors in the city were the special guests.

The week opened with the first assembly ball of the season, Monday evening, and there has been no lack of dancing events from that time till the Walker dance at the Ladies' Literary club last night. The most elaborate and certainly the most beautifully arranged affair of the week, and perhaps of the past year, was the dinner-dance at the Amelia Palace Friday evening.

The opening week brings the New Year with all its good cheer and happiness, and as is customary, many of the finest homes in the city will be thrown open that day to the chance visitors. Some elaborate and delightful events are being planned for the day, and Salt Lake will, as usual, do herself proud in the matter of entertaining.

The large dancing event of the week is to be the cotillion at the post, which is the first of a series to be given by the Cotillion club. The party is planned for Wednesday night, and will be somewhat in the nature of a watch party. The cotillion club, embracing as it does, some of the best entertainers in the city, bids fair to be a power in the social world for the winter.

One of the large events of the coming week will be the luncheon on Tuesday which Mrs. Babcock gives at the Alta club.

The week opened tomorrow with the Japanese tea given by Mrs. Alexander C. Ewing. Mrs. Farnsworth of Ogden will assist in entertaining, giving a brief talk on Japanese art.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harvey of Pocatello are the guests of Mrs. George W. Stoner. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey have been spending the last month in Chicago and eastern cities. They leave for their home Sunday.

Miss Mame Cronk, entertained a number of her friends informally Christmas evening. Her guests were Maud Wheeler, Bessie Croxall, Lola Rouse, Norah Shattuck, Kate James and Messrs. Richardson, Carson, Chaffield, Tempest and Sheekel.

There was a grand family reunion held by the Fredor and Hobday families Christmas day at 524 East Fifth South street.

The F. F. F. Fraternity society will give one of the pleasant dancing parties of the week on Tuesday at the Ladies' Literary club.

A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boyle at their residence on Christmas day by Mrs. A. C. Boyle, Jr., and others. After a sumptuous dinner at 3:30 p. m. the guests retired to the parlor, where they were entertained by vocal solos, duets and quartets. Later in the evening refreshments were served. At a late hour the guests returned to their homes, telling that the day had been well spent.

Miss Edith Spence and Miss Agnes Ruff will receive their friends New Year's at Miss Spencer's home, 425 North Second west.

Mrs. Joseph Fredor will be at home during the holidays at 524 East First South street.

Mr. Max Jaensch, daughter Nan and little Earlie have gone to Denver for a short trip.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Felt entertained delightfully at dinner Christmas day. Sprigs of holly were strewn over the table and a bowl of red carnations formed the center. Covers were laid for ten.

There will be no meeting of the Cleofan till the first of January, and that day will be devoted to the discussion of federation matters and plans.

A very large gathering of the club members and their friends met at the Ladies' Literary club Friday afternoon and listened to a splendidly prepared paper on "Hypnotism" by Mr. J. C. E. King. The plan had been to have a practical demonstration by a physician, but at the last moment it was found to be impracticable, so Mrs. King's paper was the only item in the afternoon's programme. The subject was treated in a most able manner, the writer giving especially attention to the practical side of hypnotism, the many uses to which the hypnotic influence is put were interesting, and the topic made a most interesting one.

The home and education section of the Ladies' Literary club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the club house at 4 o'clock.

The Reviewers' club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Plummer. Mrs. Vincent will give paper on "Francis Parkman and his work."

Mr. and Mrs. George Ward entertained very pleasantly a number of their friends at a Christmas dinner at the christening of their infant grandson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. McKinney. The reception hall and parlors were prettily decorated with white chrysanthemums and evergreens. Above the baptismal font hovered a white dove with outstretched wings. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Bickel, after which delicious refreshments were served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bickel, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Eberhardt, Miss Irma M. Eberhardt, Mrs. Rippeteo and Miss Kate Rippeteo.

Mrs. Neiden received a limited number of cards of admission to the General Federation of Women's Clubs. These cards are for the use of members of federated clubs when visiting in cities where there are other federated clubs. Though a stranger in a strange place, these cards offer a delightful opportunity that might be missed otherwise. Mrs. Neiden will be happy to forward them to members of any federated club in Utah upon request.

The marriage of Mrs. Beulah May Field and Mr. J. B. King took place yesterday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wilson. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clarence T. Brown in the presence of only the immediate family of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. King left later in the afternoon for a trip of five or six weeks through the south. Later they will return and make their home in this city.

Mr. J. M. Gidding of Duluth, Minn., has joined his wife and will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Silberstein for two weeks.

The music section of the Ladies' Literary club will be entertained by Mrs. Peabody Saturday evening, Jan. 3, 1903, at 8 o'clock.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the Christmas time was the dancing party given last evening at the Ladies' Literary club by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Walker and Miss Lena Hagas. The main hall was most artistically decorated in the reds and greens of the season, a profusion of holly and ivy being used. Large Christmas bells made of green hung from each chandelier, and holly and evergreens completely covered the walls. Lights in the same colors were used, and rugs and drapes lent a homelike air to the scene. In the reception room at the front cosy corners were arranged around, and the floor and walls were covered with Oriental draperies. Here stood the receiving party and as the guests entered from the dressing rooms on the lower floor they were welcomed to the dancing party. On the lower floor were spread the refreshment tables, the whole room and the tables being decorated in the same color scheme. Within a smoking room was arranged for the men, and everything that could add to the beauty of the decorations and the comfort of the guests was done. About 200 invitations had been issued.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Grant, Jr., who have been spending the Christmas holidays with the Grant family, returned Friday to their home in Ogden.

Among those who are planning special at-homes for Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. Nell and Miss Nell, and Miss McMillan, who will be assisted by a number of her friends.

Miss Elizabeth McMillan, principal of the Twelfth school, has removed to 1125 East Second South street, where she will be glad to see her friends.

PERUNA PROTECTS THE FAMILY.

Coughs and Colds. Grip and Catarrh.

The Roberts Family, of Falls City, Neb., Are Healthy and Happy—A Rare Sight in These Days. They Say, "We Think Peruna Is The Greatest Medicine On Earth."

No man is better known in the state of Nebraska than Mr. Carl T. Roberts, contractor and mason. A typical American—active, shrewd and full of business sagacity. He is not only a provider for his family, but a protector. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he writes, among other things, as follows:

"Our boy, James, had the membranous croup, and after he had recovered he was subject to repeated attacks of lung fever."

"Our boy, Charlie, was also subject to attacks of pneumonia and pleurisy. Our third boy, John, was subject to fever and ague (malaria) and liver trouble."

"Your remedy, Peruna, cured my boys entirely, and now I have three of the healthiest boys in the state of Nebraska, which I attribute to your medicine. My wife had stomach trouble which Peruna also cured."

"Altogether for my whole family we have had nineteen bottles of Peruna, and have thus saved over $500 in doctor's bills."

"I am a contractor and mason by trade, and I have known all over Nebraska. I have had a stomach trouble which has been greatly relieved by your remedy, Peruna, for which I am still taking it. We think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

C. T. ROBERTS,
Falls City, Nebraska.

Mr. T. G. Walker, Carneiro, Kansas, writes: "It is with pleasure that I report that I am better than I have been for many years. I believe Peruna is without a doubt the best medicine that was ever used in a family. It has cured my nervousness, with which I had been afflicted for a great number of years."

It is a fact of ever-increasing astonishment that so many otherwise sensible and provident people will, for the neglect of so simple a precaution as to have a bottle of Peruna at hand, bring upon themselves the needless suffering and foolish expense that a practitioner of medicine is forced to witness every day.

A Family Medicine.
L. O. Summersett, editor of "The Messenger," Red Bank, N. J., writes The Peruna Medicine Co. as follows:

Gentlemen—"I certainly feel grateful to you for putting such a great catarrh remedy on the market. I believe that more than half the people with whom I come in contact have catarrh in some form and I don't see why more of them don't use Peruna and get well."

"Myself and family were all sick a few days ago with stomach trouble and used Peruna with very satisfactory results and at one-third the cost it would have been had we called in a physician who could not possibly have prescribed a better remedy than Peruna."

L. O. SUMMERSSETT.

"We Will Not Do Without Peruna."

Mr. James A. Stalls, Otego, Ill., writes: "I can say that Peruna has cured my four-year-old boy of the tonsillitis, and that of the worst stage. He had it last winter, and I took him to three of the best doctors and got no relief. When I took him to the fourth his tonsils were so inflamed that blood was running out of them. The doctor said he could reduce them, and I used his medicine for four or five weeks and the boy got but very little better. There was a week or two that we thought he would choke to death in spite of all we could do."

"In looking over your almanac I saw Peruna recommended for throat trouble, so I wrote to Dr. Hartman in regard to my boy's throat. He recommended Peruna, and in less than two months his throat was well. I got one bottle of Peruna, and it cured him sound and well. We will not do without it and will use it for all throat and lung trouble."

JAMES A. STALLS.

A NATURAL SANITARIUM.

What a Scientific Observer Has to Say About California.

Lieut. John P. Findley, while in charge of the United States Weather Bureau at San Francisco, has written an article to a prominent magazine on the climatic conditions of California in which the following statement appears:

"Theoretically, California should furnish the best and the most varied health resorts and sanitariums in the United States. Within her borders almost every climate of the world should find the means of temporary, if not permanent, relief."

This theoretical statement from an unbiased scientific standpoint, is abundantly confirmed by experience. The cool and bracing coast climate, devoid of any trace of malaria, extends from the northern part of the state to the extreme south. There is the choice between this cool, humid atmosphere and the dry, warm atmosphere of the inland valleys.

Of altitude there is a yet greater difference. From Palm Valley, 300 feet below sea level, to the upper Sierras, 7,000 or 8,000 feet above, any altitude can be selected and comfortable homes be founded.

The peculiarity of an almost rainless summer, during which the injurious germs of animal and vegetable decay are destroyed by thorough desiccation, is one of the striking features of California climate.

During the rainy season it is usually too cool to facilitate fermentation, and the result is, except along some of the river valleys, an absolutely pure atmosphere. The ocean winds entering through the several coast openings, are tempered by the intermediate air masses over, and often receive desirable healing properties by taking up the resinous odors of the pines and redwoods on the Coast Range.

The skillful physician, acquainted with the climatic conditions, should find little difficulty in selecting a locality where the climate and environment will do all that these agencies can ever do toward the restoration of health. There is enough of wisdom to keep the mind constantly engaged, and enough of civilization to satisfy the most exacting.

People whose systems are charged with malaria, or are "run down" by overwork, find immediate and in many cases permanent relief in this invigorating climate.

Cache Valley Buyer Says Dry Farm Crop For Next Year Is Ruined.

A. R. Clark of Newton, Cache county, an experienced grain buyer, was in Ogden yesterday and in a conversation with a Herald reporter made a rather discouraging report of the grain outlook in Cache valley for next season. Mr. Clark says the principal grain fields of Cache valley—the granary of Utah—are the dry farms, and owing to the unusually dry season and the frozen ground the fall wheat is not yet above ground, when it should be two or three inches high. Mr. Clark says it is too late to seed the ground again and expect a crop for dry farms.
